Congregation Greet Its New Rector

Church Of The Ascension Members Favorably Impressed By Rev. Mr. Neal

Rev. John S. Neal, new rector of the Church of the Ascension, arrived Thursday from Gering, Nebraska, accompanied by Mrs. Neal and this week took up residence at the rectory on East Laurel avenue.

Rev. is a native of Britain and was educated at Cambridge University where he received his M.A. and B.D. degrees. In 1912 he was called to the United States, and until 1939 was rector of Trinity Church, Rock Island, Ill. Since that time he has been rector of St. Timothy's Church at Gering, Neb.

Prof. Reginald H. Neal, elder son of Rev. and Mrs. Neal, and head of the art department of the James Millikin University at Decatur, Ill., has the distinction of being the youngest artist in America to have his name included in "Who's Who of American Art." His paintings have been exhibited at the Chicago Art Institute, the Pennsylvania Institute of Fine Arts and the Art Gallery at Oakland.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Neal feel keenly for the people of Britain, and have relatives living in some districts which have received heaviest bombings. Mr. Neal's mother, brother and sister live in Coventry, where his sister is head mistress of the Chelmsford School, recently destroyed by bombs. Mrs. Neal's parents' home in Leicester was bombed and destroyed three months ago, her father narrowly escaping death.

Introducing the Rev. Mr. Neal to the congregation at the Church of the Ascension on Sunday, Dr. W. B. Heagerty, retiring rector, stated that Mr. Neal came to the parish highly recommended by many bishops of the church, several deans, and the officials of his former parish. The congregation left no doubt but that the new minister had very favorably impressed it.

Rev. Mr. Neal and Mrs. Neal will be settled in the rectory next week and then will be happy to receive callers.

David Allen Awaits Army Commission

Another young Sierra Madrean looking forward to induction into military service shortly is David Allen, son of Mrs. C. A. Allen of 250 West Highland avenue, who is daily expecting a commission as second lieutenant in the Quartermaster reserves.

Mr. Allen served four years with the ROTC holding commissions from Cadet Lieutenant to Cadet Major. For the last four years he has been employed in the commercial department of the First Trust and Savings Bank of Pasadena, and during that time has carried on a comprehensive Army extension correspondence course.

Kiwanians Going To Inter-City Meet

Sierra Madre Kiwanians will join fellow club members from Altadena and Glendora at an inter-club meeting to be held tomorrow in the latter city. William Schaper, Highland Park attorney, who is governor of the tenth Kiwanis district which comprises California and Nevada will be the guest speaker.

Carl Hanson, chairman for the benefit performance of "The Howards of Virginia," scheduled for February 3 at the Wistaria Theatre, to raise funds for the maintenance of the Kiwanis community recreation center on East Montecito avenue, announces that tickets are moving steadily, giving promise of a large audience for Elizabeth Page, Sierra Madre author who will appear, possibly accompanied by at least one member of the cast.

Back In The Navy

Going into his country's defense service for the second time, Irvin El. Carpenter, U.S. Navy retired of 439 Mariposa avenue, has been recalled for active duty with the navy. He will be stationed as chief carpenter's mate at Reeves Field, Terminal Island, Mrs. Carpenter and sons Irvin, Hugh and Wayne will take up residence in Long Beach within the next few weeks.

Rainfall Now Over The 11-Inch Mark

With Sierra Madreans wondering just how much faith to place in the weatherman's promise for a clear weekend, the city pumping plant registered 40 inches of rain for the shower Tuesday night, bringing this year's rainfall to 11.25 inches. Temperatures for the week were:

| | Max. | Min. |
|---------|------|------|
| Jan. 17 | 64 | 43 |
| Jan. 18 | 68 | 43 |
| Jan. 19 | 72 | 44 |
| Jan. 20 | 66 | 44 |
| Jan. 21 | 63 | 44 |
| Jan. 22 | 59 | 44 |

Camera Club Elects Officers; Gets Action Shots In The Snow

Clarence Ware was elected president of the Sierra Madre Camera Club at the annual election of officers held January 18, at the studio of A. J. Dewey. Harry Arnold was retained as vice-president and Caryl Key chosen as secretary-treasurer.

First field trip of the year was made Sunday when members of the club journeyed to Big Pines Lodge for lunch. Several members of the group went on to Table Mountain to shoot action photographs of ski jumping and tobogganing. Others hiked about the mountains searching for pictorial subjects.

Three prizes in photographic materials are being offered for the best pictures obtained on the trip. These will be judged by popular vote.

Next meeting of the club will be held January 28. All Sierra Madreans interested in photography will be welcome at any of the club meetings, according to Harry Arnold, who further announces that competitions, technical talks and salons are also on the club calendar.

Officers To Be Elected By Red Cross

Public Invited To Attend Annual Meeting Of Local Chapter Monday

All Sierra Madreans interested in the community service and war relief work being carried on by the Sierra Madre Chapter of the American Red Cross are invited by Thomas Schwartz, chairman, to attend the annual meeting of the chapter Monday evening at 7:30 in the city hall.

Annual reports will be given covering all branches of the work and the report of the nominating committee will be read. Members of this committee are Mrs. C. W. Bowen, Miss Marian Vannier, Mrs. E. R. Thompson, Mrs. Roland Adams and James C. Heasley.

Sierra Madre women who have just completed a course in home hygiene under the direction of Mrs. Augusta Coates will be present to give a demonstration of the work.

Announcement was made this week that the war relief consignment now being completed will be shipped not later than the first of next week. Therefore it will be necessary for all women who have unfinished work at home to complete it and return it to headquarters within the next few days.

This week the chapter received from national headquarters another quota to be shipped April 1. All material will be furnished but additional workers will be needed to complete the quota on time.

All chapter secretaries of the Los Angeles district have been requested to attend a meeting scheduled for today at Los Angeles Headquarters where the problem of obtaining the volunteer enlistment of Red Cross nurses will be discussed. An announcement made this week through district headquarters revealed that nurses are badly needed in army hospitals which are being built in centers where men are being trained.

Famed Old Wistaria Vine Has A Rival

Sierra Madre's world famed Wistaria Vine has a rival, and a feminine one at that!

However there seems little cause for worry because the newcomer is located on the "home grounds," so to speak, and she isn't quite old enough to exert her inherent wiles—yet.

"She" is a Ushijima wistaria vine from Tokyo, presented as a gift to Mrs. W. J. Lawless this week by Dr. George P. Lux of Monrovia. This particular Japanese species is the only serious competitor of Sierra Madre's big Chinese plant, bearing 5-foot blossoms over extraordinary areas of tendrils. (Still another variety boasts 8-foot blossoms.)

As a postscript it may be explained that a wistaria is given feminine gender because it grows best over water. According to Chinese sages the trait is the purely feminine one of desiring always to be near a mirror.

Largest Citrus Crop In Years Seen

One of the largest citrus crops in California for several years was predicted by the state department of agriculture in Sacramento this week.

The 1940-41 orange crop was predicted as 48,287,000 boxes—4,000,000 boxes more than last year; lemons were forecast at 13,430,000 boxes—4,000,000 to 2,000,000 more boxes than in 1937. '38 and '39; grapefruit will be about 200,000 boxes under the last three-year average, or 1,794,000 boxes. However, other fruit and nut crops will be slightly under last year's production.

Church Don't Owe A Thin Dime

Bethany Church doesn't owe anybody anywhere a penny and every department of the church is in flourishing condition, members of the congregation learned from reports submitted at the annual dinner meeting Friday evening.

Church officers for the year selected by unanimous vote were: F. D. R. Moore and J. W. Maule, trustees; William Montgomery, elder; E. R. Thompson and H. E. Cooper, deacons; Roy Edwards, Sunday school superintendent; W. A. Evans, treasurer; Mrs. W. A. Evans, corresponding secretary; C. J. List, head usher and J. R. Evans, clerk.

Annual reports given by department heads showed gratifying progress. The treasurer reported the church in good financial condition, with no indebtedness, and over 24 percent of the income for the year expended for missionary activities. The missionary society reported appearance of 31 speakers representing missions in different parts of the world.

Among special events of the year were the Japanese young people's conference, the May Bible conference, Summer Bible school, and the evangelistic meetings by Rev. Mundell. Sincere appreciation was expressed to Miss Needham for her work in the Bible School and church, and to W. A. Evans and his assistants who had charge of the dinner.

School Head Tells Requisites Of A Good Teacher

Three qualifications of paramount importance for young teachers applying for positions were outlined Tuesday by Gerald Smith, Sierra Madre School superintendent, to students majoring in education at Whittier College. Grouped together as almost equally important were the proper professional spirit on the part of teachers, which he defined as an industrious attitude and a willingness to give whatever service is demanded for the improvement of the school and community; ability to get on well with children, parents and teachers; and an understanding of teaching materials.

Mr. Smith was among a large number of educators invited to Whittier College to interview students, who in groups of ten listened to the informative talks given.

Activities at the grammar school during the last week included a lecture on astronomy given Wednesday to the general science class by Dr. Theodore Dunham, local resident and member of the Mt. Wilson Observatory staff. This afternoon parents and teachers will enjoy tea together in various school rooms.

Cars Crash On Curve

A sharp curve on the Santa Anita Canyon highway where it is intersected by Sturtevant trail above the Santa Anita Ranger station, was the scene of an automobile crash Sunday afternoon involving two out-of-town cars.

Fred P. Streinbeck of Los Angeles was driving out of the Canyon and did not see a car approaching from the other direction, driven by Howard R. Smith of Altadena. In the resultant crash, Smith received leg injuries and both cars were badly damaged. Neither driver was held.

Demand For Lower Electric Rates To Be Renewed Today

Sierra Madre's demand for a lower electric lighting rate will be renewed before the State Railroad Commission in the State building at Los Angeles this morning. Mayor W. J. Schiltz and Councilman Tom Schwartz will appear with representatives of 71 other Southern California communities seeking rate reductions. Following their applications and a previous hearing by the commission its engineers have been making an investigation that is expected to result in recommendations for reductions.

Sierra Madre's application was for a rate comparable with that enjoyed by the neighboring cities of Arcadia and Monrovia. In particular Sierra Madre officials asked for the same rate given Arcadia patrons of the Southern California Edison Co. because the area is more restricted and the company's earnings per pole mile here are held to be greater than in Arcadia.

Main Stem Is Lined With 150 Trees

Carrying into effect the tree planting program recently recommended by the city planning commission and approved by the city council the park department and some S. R. A. labor this week set out 150 flowering eucalyptus, magnolia grandiflora and Karob trees along Sierra Madre Blvd.

The parkway planting program provides for uniform planting in all vacant spots along Sierra Madre's main street. Completion of the work will be held in abeyance until additional funds can be placed at the disposal of the planning commission.

Commander Bumpus Recalled To Navy

Recalled from the retired list to active service in the Navy, former Commander Foster C. Bumpus of 121 South Lima street has been assigned to the Vallejo Naval Station. Mrs. Bumpus and the children will leave their home here and leave Saturday to take up their residence in Vallejo while he is in the locality.

March Of Dimes Drive Under Way

The drive against infantile paralysis is well under way in Sierra Madre and will run until February 1. Buttons may be obtained from the table in front of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank and from Mrs. Woodson Jones, Mrs. Johnson Irish, Mrs. Tom Henderson or the Safeway store. Mrs. Grace B. Caukin, in charge of the drive, is assisted by Mrs. Cora B. Corum, Mrs. Robert E. Wright, Mrs. Alyce Anderson, Mrs. A. Miller and Mrs. Fred Griebow.

Mother Of Bethany's Pastor Is Dead

Word was received yesterday by the Rev. Stewart R. Sherif, pastor of Bethany Church, of the death of his mother, Mrs. Richmond Sherif, at Rochester, N.Y., Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Sherif was well known to many Sierra Madreans, having spent six months here in 1938. She had been ill for several months. Surviving relatives are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Gernandt of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Helen Jones of Rochester; and two sons, Daniel T. Sherif, U.S. engineer of Norfolk, Va., and Rev. Mr. Sherif.

Mystery In The Death Of R. T. Knight

Suspecting that Ralph T. Knight had been held up, robbed and thrown into the Colorado river above Needles, where his body was found in the turbulent stream on January 9 with a 60-pound stone tied about his neck, coroners jury in that city recommended that a rigid investigation be conducted into the manner in which Knight's death occurred.

Knight lived here with his sister, Mrs. W. D. Tiller, since 1927. He was a World War veteran and served overseas in the first Mechanical unit of the motor transport division. For several months he had been preparing to enter the English army in the same line of service.

He left home December 21 saying that he was taking his last test for this army service and would be away for three or four days. He was not heard of again by relatives until his body was found.

Mr. Knight is survived by his sister, Mrs. Tiller; a daughter, Mrs. Pat M. Broach of Tulsa, Okla., and one grandchild, Ruth Broach.

Leslie Preston Is Badly Injured

Friends of Leslie Preston will be sorry to learn that he is in the Good Samaritan Hospital as the result of a serious injury sustained while at work for the Goodrich Rubber Co., in Los Angeles. He was testing electrical equipment when part of the machinery fell on his leg, crushing it below the knee.

Many Noted Stars To Appear At British War Relief Benefit

Featuring stars of concert, stage and screen, who have volunteered their services and talents, the British War Relief committees of the citrus valley cities are sponsors of a gala benefit to be given Saturday, January 25, at 8:15 p.m. in the Bridges Auditorium of Claremont College, in Claremont.

Alan Mowbray, master of ceremonies, will present such well known performers as the California Junior Symphony Orchestra, Lee Paterson and the Maier, Basil Rathbone, Brian Aherne, Joan Fontaine, Anna Neagle, Roland Young, Maureen O'Sullivan and Nigel Bruce.

Tickets are available from Mrs. John B. McBratney of Monrovia.

Congregation Names New Vestrymen

Annual Reports Of Church Of The Ascension Bring Cheer To Members

Frank A. Spencer and Arthur Wilson were elected vestrymen of the Church of the Ascension for three year terms, at the annual meeting of the church held Thursday evening at the parish house. They will replace the retiring members, Carlton Pegler and Thomas Meader. The complete vestry for this year will include C. F. Vannier, senior warden; Dr. Theodore Dunham, junior warden; Frank Spencer, clerk of the vestry; Clarence Noshier, Elmer Pulling and Arthur Wilson, vestrymen.

Delegates elected to the diocesan convention to be held in Los Angeles January 29 and 30 are C. F. Vannier, Arthur Wilson, Walter Jessop, E. A. Davey and Dr. Dunham; alternates are Frank Spencer and Frank Stansfield. Delegates to the convocations are Messrs. Wilson, Davey and Vannier and Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Fred Hawley.

Reports read by all department chairmen showed an excellent financial condition. Dr. W. B. Heagerty retiring rector read the report of his official acts for 1940.

Rev. John S. Neal, newly appointed rector of the church, who with Mrs. Neal arrived in Sierra Madre Thursday afternoon, presided at the meeting, thanked the parish for calling him as rector and outlined a few brief plans for the year. He also gave an interesting account of his motor trip while enroute from Nebraska, and expressed his pleasure upon being called to California, which he and Mrs. Neal are visiting for the first time. Rev. and Mrs. Neal were welcomed by the rector emeritus, Dean Arnold G. H. Bode.

A formal expression of appreciation for their confidence and cooperation was extended to all organization officers and members of the parish by Dr. Heagerty, who also expressed the wish that fullest cooperation be given Rev. Mr. Neal.

Homer Elam Suffers Relapse In Fight Against Pneumonia

Homer Elam, owner of the Wistaria Grill was reported in a critical condition at the Veterans Hospital at Sawtelle, late last night, due to a relapse in his fight against double pneumonia. He was taken to the hospital when pneumonia developed from an attack of "flu." Early in the week he rallied, but the subsequent relapse brought concern for his recovery.

Tribute Paid 5 Retiring Firemen

Declaring that the Volunteer Fire Department of Sierra Madre is "an organization looking for what it can do, and not what it can get," Councilman Thomas Schwartz, a former member of the fire department, presented honorary badges for 20 years of service to five members of the department at a dinner given in their honor by the Chamber of Commerce at Wistaria Vine Gardens Friday evening. In addition to the fine service this organization has given the community," said Schwartz, "it also purchased a respirator, first aid truck, and ladder truck and gave them to the city."

He then presented the badges, speaking eloquently of the service each man had given to Sierra Madre. The first badge was pinned on Louis J. Karger, whom Schwartz designated as the "father of the fire department." "He hasn't minded when 19 other men have kidded him," said Schwartz. "He didn't mind when we threw him down the chute, and nearly broke his back. Whenever there has been a fire, Louis has been right there and I present this badge as a token of our respect and gratitude."

As an expert on construction, W. Lee Hibbs has been of inestimable value to the department, Schwartz declared, and has given generously of his time and knowledge. Of J. Milton Steinberger he said: "This is the man who runs the pump and does all the work there. Also if you are ever in the dumps, go over and talk to 'Shorty' and he will help you without knowing that he is doing it."

In presenting a badge to George Norris, assistant chief, Schwartz voiced the gratitude of all members of the department for his efforts in building up the organization.

Chief W. D. Richards was presented with a badge centered with a diamond, the gift of members of the department. Speaking of the work performed by Richards, Schwartz stressed the difficulty confronting any leader who has the job of maintaining the interest and respect of his men, and spoke at length of the many fine characteristics which have enabled him to hold the position of chief for 20 years.

Jay Stevens, Pacific Coast head of the National Fire Underwriters, was presented by Harry Lange, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and took his listeners behind the scenes in the fire service, with many interesting sidelights on the business of fire fighting.

Dr. Pritchard To Make His Home Here

Believing that there is no place like Sierra Madre in which to establish a permanent home, Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard and his sister, Miss Martha Caroline Pritchard, have purchased the E. J. Webster estate at 121 East Alcega avenue, and will occupy their new home in about two weeks when the redecorating is completed.

The seven room house constructed of hollow tile with an exterior finish of stucco is situated in a half acre garden. It was built shortly after the outbreak of the first world war, by the late E. J. Webster following his completion of 15 years travel during which he visited every continent.

Dr. Pritchard, who retired recently as pastor of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church after 14 years of service here, is happy to again take up residence close to many old friends. Miss Pritchard was for many years a teacher in the State College for Librarians at Albany, N.Y., and sent in her resignation upon deciding to remain permanently in California. She returned to Sierra Madre in the fall, when Dr. Pritchard concluded an extended visit through eastern states.

Sierra Madre Contributes Volunteers

Local Draft Board Will Send 11 Men Into The Army On January 30

With the calling up of the second group of draftees under the Selective Service act, J. W. Hudson, secretary of Local Draft Board No. 191 at Monrovia, this week announced the names of 11 volunteers and three draftees from this district who will be inducted into the U.S. army, January 30.

Among volunteers are two Sierra Madreans, Joe Hinojos, son of Mrs. Lily Hinojos of 249 Grove street, and Robert Clark, son of Mrs. Alice I. Clark of 161 Lowell avenue.

Hinojos, now 25 years old, has been a resident of this city for 21 years. For ten years he has been active in Boy Scout work. He hopes to go into the Medical Corps, or as an alternative, to be placed in identification work, for which his many years experience in photography and his recently completed course in government fingerprinting give him an excellent background.

Clark, who is 21 year old, has been a Sierra Madrean for 15 years. Until recently he was an employee of the Central Garage.

Also among the volunteers is Walter Dunn, Jr., of Monrovia, son of Sierra Madre's city attorney, Walter Dunn.

Included in the four alternates named by the board are three Sierra Madreans, Edward Frank LaLone of 36 West Highland avenue, 25-year old son of Fred LaLone, Sr.; George Francis Scott, son of Mr. H. H. Steinberger of 48 Sunnyside avenue, and Emory Schell Hanson of 250 West Highland avenue, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Hanson of San Clemente.

Scott has served four years with the U.S. Marine Corps. He is now employed by the Belley Trucking Company.

Hanson may be automatically exempted as he has steady employment in the supply department of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. designated as an industry vital to the National defense.

More Payers And Higher Income Taxes

New Defense Levies And Lowered Exemptions To Increased Collections

Drastic changes in the federal income tax structure put into effect by the recent session of congress to cover emergency defense costs, indicate an enormous increase in the number of Southern California residents who will file income returns for 1940 in this district, according to estimates just released by the income tax division of the local bureau of internal revenue.

Previous to 1940 all single persons with a net income of $1,000 or more, and all married persons with a net income of $2,500 or more were required to file returns. For 1940 these exemptions have been lowered so that single persons with a GROSS income of $800 and married persons with a GROSS income of $2,000 are now required to file returns whether or not they have any tax to pay.

In the past year 369,000 taxpayers filed income returns for 1939. For 1940 over 925,000 returns are expected to be filed in the 14 offices of the internal revenue service in the 10 Southern California counties.

In addition to lowering the exemption brackets the recent congress also voted increased surtaxes on personal incomes between $6,000 and $100,000. These increases together with increased corporation taxes will result, it is estimated, in a raise in revenue of approximately 28 percent.

Income taxes collected this year on 1939 incomes in Southern California amounted to almost $88,775. The tax division expected to collect over $113,630,000 for 1940. A major portion of this increase will be accounted for by the new Defense Tax.

All taxable income will be subjected to a new tax, the first of its kind ever levied in the United States. This tax, known as the Defense Tax, is 10 percent of the taxpayer's regular tax. A taxpayer whose return indicates a tax, for example, of $20 will also pay a defense tax of $2, making the total $22.60.

1940 returns must be filed not later than March 15, 1941.

With Sierra Madre Students At Wilson Junior Hi School

With the current school semester rapidly drawing to a close at Wilson Junior High School Sierra Madre students who have been closely associated with school affairs since September are now prominent in final activities.

Those helping to produce the final edition of the Wilsonian are Betty Lou Lovejoy, Juanita Thompson, Joe Belliove and Junior Grippi. All are 10-12s and regular staff members of the school paper. Young Grippi has also been playing right guard with the senior basketball team. David Asiawa, another Sierra Madrean, has been giving a good performance as right forward of the intermediate basketball team.

Girls taking part in the January 15 meeting of the Girls' League were Ruth Colt, Virginia Liscomb and Shielah Colbert, all of whom modeled in the fashion show, wearing dresses they had made in the clothing class.

Two meetings have been planned by the executive board of the Girl's Athletic Association before the end of the semester in February. There will be a volleyball play day and a business meeting to elect new officers and to present G.A.A. awards. Shielah Colbert is vice-president of the G.A.A. executive board.

EASTERN STAR SEES A ONE-ACT PLAY

More than sixty members and visitors attended a meeting of the O.E.S. Chapter Monday night. A one-act play was presented after the meeting by the Monrovia Dramatic Club. Refreshments were served by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Lela Embree and Mrs. Orrella Stinman. The next meeting of the Chapter will be held February 3.

Woman's Club Notes

Fulfilling expectations as one of the most interesting events of the season was the Drama Day program at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club on Wednesday, January 22.

Following the business meeting, the program opened with a talk on the dance by Dorothy dePont, of Arcadia, who told the benefits of dancing not only to development of a career but to the enjoyment of one's daily life. She illustrated her points by doing a very lovely toe-dance.

Mrs. Steven Monteleone of Beverly Hills, special guest and speaker of the day, gave a pep talk on the drama, stressing the fact that since everyone has the desire to act, they should take advantage of the fact and make a strong attempt to form a really superior drama department.

The program closed with a one-act play entitled "Ladies in Linen," presented by the drama group of the Compton Woman's Club.

Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger was hostess at the delightful tea following the program. Mrs. J. C. James and Mrs. Homer Glidden poured.—Libby Trimble.

ALL-TIME SMASH HIT AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Flapping the calendar's pages to that particular spot in American history marked 1890, Pasadena Community Playhouse re-creates an all-time smash hit, creates nostalgia for some and laughter for all with William Gillette's comedy, "All the Comforts of Home," January 28th to February 8th.

"I Killed the Count" completes its Playhouse run on Saturday, January 25th.

TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE'S SAVINGS

"It is important that we all attempt to raise the level of national character first, then living standards will seek sensible levels."

One of the greatest factors for building "national character" is the security of the individual through the habit of thrift. It is the business of ATLAS FEDERAL:

- To receive funds from Mr. and Mrs. Investing Public.
- To invest such funds in carefully selected first trust deed loans on homes in Pasadena and its environs.

The supervision and management of such an important public service should be under the guidance of men of experience and integrity. We are proud to point publicly to the Pasadena business men who serve on our Board:

John A. Reagan, Chairman of the Board
Dr. John A. Sexson, President
Frederick J. Carr, Executive Vice-President
Bruce V. Reagan, Vice-President

COMPARE PRICES BEFORE YOU BUY!

IT PAYS TO LOOK before you buy. Grocery prices vary considerably, so it is wise to make careful comparisons of prices that are quoted on identical merchandise. We make this suggestion boldly, and without reservation, for we KNOW that Safeway prices are low. It's a policy with our stores to keep all of our prices at the lowest level that will yield a reasonable profit.

SWAT THE FLU BUG

Although the number of persons now afflicted with influenza in the United States is far from epidemic proportions, it is nonetheless far greater than in recent years. The number of influenza cases in the nation during the first week of January reached 77,144. The average number of such cases between 1934 and 1938, in last week, has been 25,000, which indicates an increase of more than three times. Every person can help protect himself and family against the flu by following certain very simple rules outlined by the U. S. Public Health Service: Avoid needless contact with others, particularly persons with colds; eating a well balanced diet, and drinking plenty of water; guarding against fatigue; getting plenty of rest and sleep; keeping the home well ventilated at all times but avoiding drafts.

The United States, luckily, is far better prepared on the medical front to cope with an epidemic than it was in 1918 when those two diseases, influenza and its dangerous camp follower, pneumonia, swept across the continent claiming the lives of over a quarter of a million persons.

Moreover, each person, by practicing the safeguards outlined above, lessens the likelihood of an epidemic. It will be seen that these rules involve nothing but common sense habits of living, which most of us already know. But how few people practice them is shown by the needlessly large army of common cold sufferers who every year are casualties to their own carelessness. An ounce of prevention is still worth a pound of cure!

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

OF no special importance except as an emollient to these harsh times: Two bits of good news. First, about a friend of ours—a California thrasher, one of those birds mockingbird-size, all brown, with a long curved beak. We came to know him last Fall when for a long time he was the only one of his kind to patronize that diner for birds we conduct just outside our window. We became so well acquainted that sometimes he'd perk his head to listen when we called him. Never very wild, he became so tame at last we believe we could have touched him—had we tried, which we didn't, for we guessed that he was sensitive. In which, it seems, we were right. For, one day, we could see that his feelings had been hurt. How or by whom we never knew. But he wouldn't eat. He ran at the other birds and scared them. He walked. Then, disappeared.

FOR weeks and weeks. Until the other day. We were walking up through Bailey Canyon when we saw a thrasher run across the road not very far in front of us—a mere brown streak he ran so fast, but leaving behind him some faint smoke of hope and recognition and quivering excitement. Slowly we walked over in the direction the bird had taken; and as we walked we talked—not very loud, but saying things that it had long been in our heart to say. And there he was. He'd stopped in some brush where his protective coloration was just about perfect, but we could see that he was watching us. Whether he was our bird or not, though, we couldn't see. And finally, after having said our say, we left him there. We don't like nature-fakers. We're not like anyone say we were one. But it was our old friend of a thrasher who showed up again next day just outside our window.

AND then, well, anyway, no matter what the calendar says, it's Springtime now—here in Sierra Madre. Ask the frogs. They know. There have been other heraldings, of course—mockingbirds singing again, all rollicking and full of fight; bare syringas sprouting green. Only as weather prophets, birds and flowering things never have been what you would call reliable. Birds, they are creatures of the air; flowers are children of the sun; which makes them both on occasion too optimistic. While Spring—Spring is that child who now stirs deep within the secret place of old Mother Earth—she whom the frogs obey. All these last nights—early, before the big chill sets in—we've heard the frogs. Lauding Earth and this the Advent of her nascent child.

CAUSING us to recall, along with other things, an arresting sentence in George Santayana's new book, "The Realm of Spirit." This: "All natural organisms have psyches, and are at the same time in relations to the physical world." Somehow suggestive of St. Paul's "...For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made..." Frogs are "natural organisms" and therefore have "psyches"; they are of "the things that are made" whereby "the invisible things...are clearly seen." Recalling in turn that curious information that had been given us long ago by a Great Soul—in Hollywood of all places; information since so incorporated in our own psyche that it has become a part of us.

IN THAT earlier Hollywood this was, which in many ways so curiously resembled our present Sierra Madre—still unspoiled, close to nature and the hills, simple but urbane. And one night we were sitting late in our garden there listening to the frogs. Almost every garden in the neighborhood had a fishpond, and each pond must have had its full quota of frogs. For the sound they made filled the night and submerged all other sounds—with a sort of super-sound, not loud but vast; and musical, with a throbbing undertone like that of bull-fiddles and kettledrums in a full-sized orchestra. Sudden as unexpected thunder this frog-music would begin; peal on for a time; then, as suddenly stop. As if this itself were of some great orchestra, with a thousand players, all under the baton of some master invisible Toscanini. We mentioned this... And—it was almost that, the Great Soul told us.

FOR that throb, that rhythm, he told us, was the very Logos of—as he said—"the Earth Herself." To the group-soul of the frog-people, he said, the earth was not only Mother, the earth was God. So that while it might be said that frogs, their

FIGHT NIGHT

In Hollywood on Friday nights folks congregate to see the fights, the Legion backs this weekly show to which both men and women go. Besides the fistic bill of fare, another reason takes them there; for stars from radio, stage and screen have come to see, and to be seen. Most anyone can spot the stars, they all wear caps and smoke cigars; there's Benny, Raft and filmdom's clown, the ever present Joe E. Brown. A lot of talent on parade to whom a fortune has been paid; they shout and cheer, they hiss and boo and act just like we poor folks do. If you can spare a dollar bill, take in this pugilistic thrill; the only place to meet, first hand, the kings and queens of movieland.

FALSE SENSE OF SECURITY MAY PROVE DISASTROUS TO TAXPAYERS OF STATE

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Since the word has gone out that no attempt will be made to levy new taxes, or increase existing taxes, at the current session of the State Legislature, there might be a disposition on the part of the man on the street to breathe a sigh of relief and abandon the Legislature to its own devices.

On second consideration, however, any thoughtful citizen will undoubtedly see the folly of that policy. Exorbitant taxation is not the only threat to the individuals security and welfare, even though it is one of the most dangerous. There are many other issues which require "eternal vigilance"—and some of these are now on the docket at Sacramento and will be discussed in subsequent articles.

But it is highly important at this time that every taxpayer in California should have an intelligent, sober understanding of the burdens he and his neighbors must assume—and that no one should be lulled into a false sense of security by the mere fact that the State, for the moment, is not contemplating the imposition of new taxes.

Governor Olson's statement that he will not seek additional taxes at this time may have been due, in part, to the fact that the bi-partisan economy bloc in the Legislature has successfully resisted all new tax levies for two years past and would probably be able to do so again. But the determining factor, undoubtedly, was that State revenues from existing tax sources are increasing by leaps and bounds, due to the national defense program, and there will likely be an abundance of cash in State vaults so long as the federal government continues with its vast program of rearmament. Federal taxes to finance defense operations will be staggering, however—and California will bear its full share of the burden.

Without in any sense detracting from the accomplishments of the legislative economy bloc, which has done a splendid piece of work in cleaning up the SRA and chopping off needless expenditures, the fact remains that State taxes have not been reduced. The enactment of new tax measures has simply been prevented. And with State income skyrocketing, as a consequence of the "defense boom," the individual taxpayer is paying the State many more dollars than before, even though no new tax levies have been imposed.

And federal taxes, in all probability, will shortly soar to levels that will make the present load seem light by comparison!

LEGISLATIVE COMMENTS

By T. FENTON KNIGHT
Assemblyman, 48th District

Demand for new State legislation continues at a low ebb. To date, less than one-half the number of bills have been introduced that had been presented for consideration during the same period two years ago. It is now quite evident that there will be no administration sponsored legislative program, and it is generally understood that a balanced budget within existing revenues will be offered. It is said that this budget balance has been accomplished mainly by the elimination of appropriations for departmental expansion or construction.

The Governor's failure to make provision for any major departmental expansion in his budget is forcing the various governmental departments where an expansion and building program appears desirable to seek its own legislative sponsorship. It is likely, therefore, that many more appropriation bills outside of the general budget will be presented this session than were offered two years ago. Department heads who have such bills to introduce are anxiously seeking authority among members of the economy bloc. If any substantial number of economy bloc members should lend their names to such appropriation bills, it might seriously endanger the continued solidarity of this group which so successfully defeated the Governor's program in '39.

It would appear that a bitter fight is in the making over the building and loan association initiative measure dealing with the reorganization of such associations. This measure already has the active opposition of the Building & Loan Commissioner, and there are a substantial number of members in both the Senate and Assembly who are diligently seeking unbiased information on the question before they are called upon to make a final decision.

Sentiment favoring return of unemployment relief to the counties appears to be losing ground rather rapidly. The number of members who voted for this return a year ago did so as a protest measure in hope that it might stimulate the Governor to place the administration of relief under civil service. While a very substantial majority of the legislature are dissatisfied with the manner in which unemployment relief is being administered to bodies, had attained some phantomlike beginning of free action, psychically and spiritually they were as deeply rooted still in the Mother as any bush or flowing spring. This was Her voice with which they spoke... The frogs boomed again for a long time, then came once more to another of their stops—so sudden, so absolute, to a silence so nearly awesome, that Hollywood itself was stunned. And only after some prudent interval, it seemed, the small noises of the neighborhood came nibbling out again like frightened mice.

After having pushed a would-be invading Italian army steadily backward, the Greeks are now proceeding to add insult to injury. An American correspondent with the Greek armies in northern Albania reports that there is a lack of an adequate supply of bombs for the small Greek air force. Crews of some of the smaller bomber-observation planes have made the best of their dilemma. In their "bombing" attacks they have sent crashing into Italian soldiers' heads, tin cans and old boots filled with rocks and other heavy objects. This, it would appear, is one of the worst blows yet sustained by the Duce—a blow on a par with the loss of Bardia. When the enemy reaches a point where it starts throwing old shoes and battered tin cans at you—in order to have its ammunition—it has given you about the first and last word in insults. It is imperative in a properly run war that the enemy show you the courtesy of at least taking you seriously. When he begins hurling the remnants of a rummage sale at your head, it's safe to conclude you have failed to win his respect.

The only declining payroll that could bring Californians cheer has, appropriately enough, been doing just that. During the last six months of 1940, relief costs dropped down 41 per cent compared with that period in 1939. More jobs for reliefers are bringing real relief to California.

The spread of defense industry strikes in Michigan, Ohio, and New Jersey is quickly arousing the nation to the need of eliminating these terribly costly setbacks to the defense program. It was such disputes which held up the rearmament program in France with such disastrous financial effect. Yet the remedy, as Britain has shown, need not lie in abolishing the right to strike, but rather in intelligent cooperation between labor and management. William M. Leiserson, veteran labor relations expert, points out that a law banning strikes would not abolish them, but only make them illegal, increasing the likelihood of violent disturbances and of dictatorial control over both labor and management. Nevertheless, the public temper is such that an effective substitute must be found for the strike as a means of settling grievances. Federal legislation calling for mediation and arbitration before there can be any stoppage of work appears as the solution which will best protect the interests of all parties concerned in a dispute, and safeguard the larger and paramount issue of the nation's security.

Data on Christmas week retail sales for the country as a whole indicate that trade registered a gain of 50 per cent or more over the same week in 1939. The catch here is that this particular week contained two just-before-Christmas shopping days that, on the 1939 calendar, occurred in the previous week. Even so, the whole month of December ran about 11 per cent ahead of December, 1939, which puts it just about even with December of 1929... and considering that prices then were about 20 per cent higher, it appears that, in volume of goods, the recent holiday season was the greatest in the country's history.

The humble onion is at last coming into its own, although it has taken a war to elevate the lowly tuber to a state where it has become one of the most sought for delicacies in London. As heart and soul of a good hamburger, indispensable element in a well-flavored stew, the crowning adornment of many a savory steak, the onion plays a large and aromatic role in the modern dietary. Under the rationing system, the onion has become very difficult to purchase in England. When the London postoffice recently advertised for the owner of a 14 pound bag of onions—the address tag had been lost—70 persons rushed down to claim it.

Bravery Of Britons During Air Raids Told In Letter

Evidence of the valiant attempt at normal living by the British people in the face of the prolonged siege of the Nazi airman, is brought home to Sierra Madreans in a letter just received by Dr. Maurice Friedman of 499 West Sierra Madre Blvd. from Ledger Wood, professor of philosophy at Princeton University. The letter enclosed a review from the London Times of November 30, 1940, covering Mr. Wood's book, "The Analysis of Knowledge," recently published in London.

Mr. Wood is the son of the late Mrs. Maurice Wood, Friedman, former resident of this city, and visited here often while he was visiting professor of philosophy at USC. He was also the first professor elected to the chair of philosophy at Cal-Tech, and is co-editor of the first dictionary of Philosophy to be published in English, which will be brought out during the summer by a New York publishing house.

Gala Program For Australia Day At Riviera Club

A colorful equestrian celebration with hurdle races, rescue races and polo will be held Australia Day at Riviera Country Club Sunday. A gala program has been arranged for this occasion, the national holiday of the Never Never Land, which will include an organization meeting for the Anzac War Relief Fund.

A "Billy Tea" picnic lunch, one of Australia's most popular institutions, will start the day. The equestrian program will be held in the afternoon on Riviera's No. 1 polo field and a dinner dance at the club house will climax the affair. Top steeplechasers of this section will be entered in the hurdle races in the afternoon and a high goal polo match between New Zealand and the Kangaroos is being planned.

MRS. AMELIA JENSEN IS RECOVERING

Friends of Mrs. Amelia Jensen, former Sierra Madre City nurse, will be glad to know that she has returned from the Los Angeles Hospital where she spent several weeks following a serious fall from which she received a broken hip. She is recuperating at the home of Dr. Mary Groth, 144 East Highland avenue, and is able to receive friends, although she will probably be confined in bed for another month.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are opening a new fruit and vegetable department within the next week or ten days. Please watch this paper for full particulars.

PUBLIC NOTICE

AFTER January 18 I will not be responsible for any debts but my own. C. N. Morrison and Norm's Garage. —19:

LOCAL COMMUNITIES FINALLY GET PUBLIC NOTICES FORMERLY HIDDEN IN LEGAL SHEETS

The improved facilities of community newspapers for reporting governmental fiscal matters and handling public notices were described by President H. A. Lawson of the Eagle Rock Sentinel at the seventh annual stockholders' meeting of the Los Angeles Newspaper Service Bureau, Inc., held Friday and attended by representatives of 101 suburban daily and weekly newspapers of Los Angeles County.

Pointing out that the Bureau's billings of $199,896 on public notices had increased 18 per cent during 1940 over the 1939 business, President Lawson declared that the total was more than eight times the volume for 1934, the year in which the newspaper association was organized.

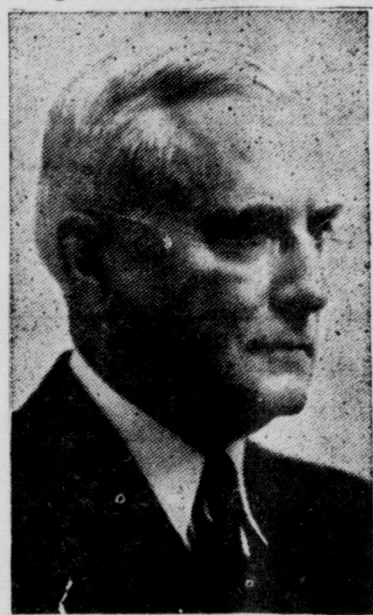

Listed with the public notices now being printed for the information of citizens and taxpayers in their local newspapers were dance halls and pool hall notices and notices of the public sale of tax-deeded properties in the various communities of the county. Mr. Lawson also reported that the county purchasing agent has adopted the policy of advertising sales of personal property in communities where the properties are situated, and that the Los Angeles Board of Education is now advertising all real estate sales and leases in local newspapers.

Re-election of officers marked the conclusion of the meeting. For the year 1941 the officers are H. A. Lawson, Eagle Rock Sentinel, president; J. F. D. Aue, Whittier News, vice-president; Telford Work, secretary-treasurer and manager, and Fred Rollins of the South Pasadena Review, Henry Thornburg of the Wilmar Chronicle and J. A. Waite of the San Pedro News-Pilot, directors.

Noted Authority On The Constitution To Speak At Claremont College

Speaking under the auspices of Claremont Colleges, Pomona College and Scripps College, Edward S. Corwin, Professor of Jurisprudence at Princeton University and well-known authority on the Constitution, will deliver three addresses at Claremont on January 23, 26 and 29, according to announcement by the colleges. Corwin is the author of numerous books on American constitutional history and theory, among which are "The Twilight of the Supreme Court," "The Constitution and What It Means Today," and just announced, his latest book "The President: Office and Powers." He has also held important lectureships at leading colleges in the United States, including Cornell, John Hopkins, and Yale.

Dr. Corwin's general theme will be "Constitutional Revolution, Limited." On Thursday evening, January 23, at Bridges Hall, Pomona College, he will speak on "Judicial Interpretation of the Constitution." On Sunday, January 26 at Bridges Auditorium, Claremont Colleges, he will speak on "The New Deal and the Supreme Court," and on Wednesday evening, January 29, his address will be at Bridges Hall, Pomona College on the subject of "Changing Concepts." For the series last year conducted by Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard Law School, the attendance was drawn from 40 Southern California communities.
